PST Releases More Management Power than Ever with ManagePro 6.7

Newest advances in award-winning management software strengthen focus, alignment and performance management

Seal Beach, CA, November 16, 2004 — Performance Solutions Technology, LLC

(www.performancesolutionstech.com), developer of award-winning software that propels goals and plans into results, announced today the availability of the newest release of the company's flagship product, ManagePro®. This latest version of ManagePro, version 6.7, adds new tools to make it easier to manage at both the strategic and operational levels with added focus, alignment and performance management tools.

Top-rated, award-winning ManagePro is designed to meet the specific needs of the management role, combining project and performance management tools into a daily review of goals, action plans and results. An integrated suite of goals-based tools for managing the entire work effort—from strategic goals, to project and task management, to individual performance—ManagePro ties everything together; from the strategic plan to today's e-mail. And, moving forward and tracking progress are aided by ManagePro's unparalleled level of visibility, alignment and coordination. ManagePro makes it easy to keep goals and their related action items in view so tasks and follow-through don't slip through the cracks. And Outlook users can synchronize to-dos and calendar events directly with ManagePro, solving the problem of having key information in separate tools and locations.

The new ManagePro Version 6.7 adds more than 50 enhancements, with an emphasis on:

- One click Visibility into each direct report's to-dos, appointments and prioritization of activity.
- Immediate Focus on who's leading, who's accountable on any given task, no matter how many people are involved.
- Accurate and Realistic % Complete Tracking for any project, based upon a weighted calculation of all sub-tasks.

"ManagePro really brings it all together for us," said Eric Martin, Vice President - Information Services & Business Systems for MW Manufacturers, a Virginia-based company that produces and distributes a wide range of window and door products for the residential construction industry. "Our needs, like those of all businesses, really, spanned both strategic management and project management. Tracking progress toward strategic goals became easy, and we saw an immediate jump in accountability and follow-through when we started using ManagePro a year ago. Very easy to use, it empowers our teams and, ultimately, has enhanced both our relationships with our customers and our bottom line.”

“Like the businesses in which it’s been put to use, ManagePro continues to get better all the time,” said Rodney Brim, Ph.D, CEO of Performance Solutions Technology. “We listen to customers needs, and we use the software to run our entire business—we’re always seeking ways to make the software better for our customers and ourselves. ManagePro 6.7 makes it easier than ever to get a quick view of status and priorities with the daily assistant and lead assignment features, and its enhanced scorecards provide weighted calculation for better status and success measurement.”

ManagePro 6.7 is available now for download from www.performancesolutionstech.com. Pricing starts at $295 for ManagePro Solo Edition, an individual user license; $655 for ManagePro Team Edition, a networked team lead license; and $900 for a Web-enabled team license. Licensing includes one year of free upgrades, after which maintenance contracts are available. ManagePro 6.7 runs on Windows 2000+.
